

Delta Airlines Policy for Non-Refundable Tickets

- Wholly Unused Tickets - If a customer misses the ticketed travel date, the customer is required to select a new travel date and exchange the ticket within one year from the original departure date.
- Partially Unused Nonrefundable Tickets - If a customer misses the ticketed continuing/return flight, a new flight may be rescheduled and the ticket exchanged no later than one year from the original departure date.
- Unused Domestic tickets that have previously been exchanged must commence travel with one year from the original ticket's outbound travel date.
- Extensions to this validity policy are not permitted. Once any ticket expires, Northwest will retain all amounts collected from the passenger as an administrative service charge/cancellation fee.

Other Airlines Policy for Non-Refundable Tickets-Rules May Vary by Airline.

Wholly unused nonrefundable tickets can be used up to one year from the date of the first flight of the customer's domestic itinerary. For international itineraries, wholly unused nonrefundable tickets can be used up to one year from the date of the original ticket issuance. The change fee on Non-Refundable Tickets will continue to apply for each change made as well as all other fare terms and conditions and any difference in fare when changing travel plans.

The best advice to travelers is: Always listen carefully as the travel agent explains the rules of the fare and the non-refundable exchange policy. These policies can change quickly without advance notice to either travel agents or the public in general.

Carry-on-luggage policies

3-1-1 on air travel = 3 ounce bottle or less; 1 quart-sized, clear, plastic, zip-top bag; 1 bag per passenger placed in screening bin. One-quart bag per person limits the total liquid volume each traveler can bring. 3 oz. container size is a security measure.

Consolidate bottles into one bag and X-ray separately to speed screening.

Be prepared. Each time TSA searches a carry-on it slows down the line. Practicing 3-1-1 will ensure a faster and easier checkpoint experience.

3-1-1 is for short trips. If in doubt, put your liquids in checked luggage.

Declare larger liquids. Prescription medications, baby formula and milk are allowed in quantities exceeding three ounces and are not required to be in the zip-top bag. Declare these items for inspection at the checkpoint.

Come early and be patient. Heavy travel volumes and the enhanced security process may mean longer lines at security checkpoints.

- Each traveler is limited to one carry-on bag and one personal item, (purse, briefcase).
- Do not carry wrapped gifts on board the plane; you may need to unwrap it for inspection.
- Be prepared to remove your laptop computer from the case to be x-rayed separately. This also applies to camcorders.
- Limit metal objects on your person or clothing.

Tips For Travel Under Increased Security

Onboard the aircraft:

Expect to see random searches of service personnel, flight crew, and equipment. Listen to and follow crew instructions at all times. Flight crews are trained to ensure passengers safety and comfort. Be patient if departures are delayed. Passengers boarding and baggage loading are being carefully coordinated by ground handling crew.

Upon Arrival at Destination:

Proceed through the terminal beyond security. Meeting parties will be restricted to areas outside security checkpoints. Have luggage receipts available when retrieving luggage for verifications.
